

Dear Parents:

It's almost time for the Scholastic Book Fair! If you have books at home that your kids have outgrown, consider donating them to the library! Also, through the Book Fair I will have a penny contest. Given our theme of Paws for Reading, I'm doing cats vs dogs. You or your student can bring in a penny to vote for cats or dogs, and if they don't like the other one then they can put in a silver coin to count against that animal. At the end of the Book Fair, I'll tally the votes and pick out books of the winning pet for the library using the funds donated during the penny contest. Please come out and support our school during the Book Fair, February 12-15th!

Sincerely,

Dawn Pepper, Carlson's librarian
